

UF College of Dentistry Green Team

Green Tips of the Month

February 2009 Love the Earth!

A dozen roses might be the traditional Valentine's Day offering, but why not surprise your sweetie with a pretty potted plant (from a local nursery, naturally) instead? Not only are you giving a sustainable gift that will truly keep on giving, you also avoid paying holiday-inflated prices for a bunch of dead flowers. Potted hydrangeas, lilies and even roses preserve the romance AND the flora, or get creative and give herbs or bromeliads.

Not so excited about the 14th? Give yourself the gift of a plant. It'll provide a wintertime lift and improve your office air quality. Pothos, snake plant and philodendron are just a few of the many that grow well in low or artificial light.

UF Office of Sustainability Events in February

- 2/17 Green Your Office training
 - More information: <http://www.hr.ufl.edu/training/schedule/other.asp>
- 2/23 Faculty Workshop in Sustainability: Curriculum
- 2/24 Faculty Workshop in Sustainability: Collaborative Research
 - For more information on sustainability-related faculty workshops, visit <http://www.sustainability.ufl.edu/what-can-you-do/FacultyInvolvement.html> or contact Kim Tanzer at tanzer@ufl.edu